

TYNDALL RANGE

By Adam Donoghue

"This is one of the most beautiful places to climb. The stillness and heat are offset by the surrounding blues, greens and the white of the rock. Water droplets gently drift past. Five minutes from the cave are the best sunsets I've seen in Tasmania. The night we spent on the face was in perfect weather – no cloud, no wind. The surface of the lake was completely still and mirrored the cloudless, starry sky above."
